

Ted Leavitt - Biography

Ted Leavitt has extensive general management, marketing, strategy, entrepreneurial, and M&A experience spanning large corporations and management consulting to his own start-up companies. He has particular expertise in growth, change, integration and turnaround of marketing-intensive, international businesses.

Mr. Leavitt is currently CEO/Owner of RyKrisp LLC., formed from the purchase of the 100+-year-old RYKRISP cracker brand from Conagra. Prior positions included founding and running two start-ups, senior positions at a number of blue-chip international corporations, and strategy consultant for Booz, Allen & Hamilton (now part of PWC).

On the non-profit side, Mr. Leavitt has participated in a variety of board activities, ranging from Jr. Achievement of the Upper Midwest, the GrandMet Foundation, and as St. Paul's Clapham churchwarden

Mr. Leavitt had extensive mergers and acquisition experience earlier in his career. At Pillsbury and Booz•Allen he led or been a major player in five acquisitions. Mr. Leavitt has an MBA from the University of Michigan and a BA, economics from Northwestern University.

Why I wish to serve

We need residential property owners to be more broadly involved in the governance of Sea Pines and we need to aspire for our overall community to be "best in class". There are many opportunities to do this and all require time and effort. I am happy to put in this effort to help accomplish what I think and hope we want.